

AMOSS TRIAL NOW UNDER FULL HEADWAY

Jury Made Up From Names Drawn From The Wheel.

DEFENSE MADE FEW CHALLENGES

The Taking Of Testimony Was Begun
Yesterday And Strong Evidence is Being Brought Out by The Commonwealth.

MILT OLIVER TELLS HIS STORY

THE JURY.

Jno. H. Williams,
J. T. West,
E. F. Griffin,
E. B. Moss,
J. R. Fears,
D. E. Foster,
F. B. Wagoner,
M. D. Hord,
H. M. Henderson,
E. H. Major,
R. S. Lindsey,
Joe Davis.

Late Monday afternoon on affidavits of the prosecution L. H. Smithson, L. R. Crawley and T. M. West were excused from the D. A. Amoss jury and on affidavit from the defense C. L. Mayes was excused. In excusing these men Judge Hanbery said there were too many men competent for jury service in the county to have even a suspicion of bias rest against any juror, if possible to prevent it. He allowed both sides exceptions but the Commonwealth took none.

Two more jurors on regular panel were called, but both said they had formed opinions.

Judge Hanbery then ordered 100 names drawn from the wheel and adjourned until Tuesday morning.

Nine names were called before the panel was filled with F. M. Morris, E. H. Major, J. H. Pyle and Joe Davis.

R. C. Chilton and D. J. McCord were challenged by the Commonwealth.

Eleven veniremen were examined before R. F. Overton and J. R. Caudle were temporarily accepted. Later Mr. Caudle was excused, not being a housekeeper. W. J. McGee took his place.

The Commonwealth challenged R. F. Overton. Eleven more were called and D. E. Foster finally qualified. Many of those called said they had formed opinions.

The defense after consultation challenged W. J. McGee, W. L. Henderson, M. F. Winfree, F. M. Morris and J. H. Pyle.

Eleven more were called and the panel filled with S. W. Williams, E. B. Moss, J. R. Fears, H. M. Henderson and R. S. Lindsey.

The Commonwealth challenged S. W. Williams and after calling three J. T. West qualified and both sides made no further challenges. The Commonwealth used 4 of its 5 and the defense 5 of its 15. The jury was finally made up as follows:

E. F. Griffin, Jno. H. Williams, E. B. Moss, J. T. West, J. R. Fears, D. E. Foster, F. B. Wagoner, M. D. Hord, H. M. Henderson, E. H. Major, R. S. Lindsey and Joe Davis.

Judge Hanbery then charged the jury to permit nobody to talk with them and court adjourned until morning.

The court room was almost filled with the crowd of witnesses.

Dr. Amoss bondsmen appeared in court and consented for the prisoner to remain out on his bond.

These Had Opinions.

Among the large number of talismen who stated that they had formed and expressed an opinion as to the guilt of Dr. Amoss, disqualifying them for service were.

Upshaw Buckner, Ben Garrett, G. W. Allen, Frank Trice, H. A. Yost, M. K. Anderson, Tobe Morris, T. A. King, R. F. West, C. R. Boyd, Chas. F. Johnson, W. E. Forgy, J. M. Miles, J. L. Faganes, J. F. Butler, S. M. McRae, L. L. Dulin, E. L. Boyd, E. P. Wilkins, J. W. Overbey, T. A. Adcock, R. T. Morris, M. B. King, C. W. Ducker, A. C. Catlett, M. V. Dulin, S. P. Moseley, J. W. Underwood, R. C. Crenshaw, P. E. West and R. C. Gary.

Crawley Is Charged.

L. R. Crawley, one of the talesmen removed from the jury by affidavits, came here shortly after the raid from Trigg county and applied, before he had been in city long enough to become eligible, for service on the police force. A. F. Cooper who made one of the affidavits, swore that Crawley was a night rider, that he himself was one and knew Crawley to be. Crawley swore under oath that he was not a night rider and was accepted as a juror until removed by affidavit.

Trial Begins.

The court went into the case yesterday with the crowd if possible larger than the day before. The witnesses and the court ordered them to keep out of the court room, setting apart the county court room as a waiting room.

Witnesses called by the Commonwealth: Dr. Homer Blane, Chas. H. Harrington, Mrs. Harrington, Reuben Stewart, Mrs. Stewart, Lonzo Stewart, James Gray, Mrs. Betty Gray, B. F. Hyde, Clancy McCool, Henry Stewart, Blair Alexander, R. M. Fairleigh, J. T. Greer, W. D. Hawkins, Walter Knight, Jno. Luckner, J. B. Winfree, W. A. Wilgus, Lindsey Mitchell, L. Guthrie, Joe Claxton, E. N. Miller, W. E. Graves, W. C. Owen, W. T. Tandy, T. E. Lawsen, Clem Davis, M. S. Hopson, Tom Greer, El Hester, Geo. McCord, Jim Ricketts, Mrs. S. White, Wiley Jones, T. R. White, W. H. White, B. P. Overbey, J. O. Bell.

Witnesses called for Defense: Warren D. Kelly, W. I. Johnson, Silas Ramsey, C. T. Gregg, David Freeman, Jno. Freeman, Buck Tandy, Willie Tandy, Roger Tandy, W. H. White, Mrs. Lena Kennedy, Lee Sizemore, Walter Wadlington, Jas. Ridley, Mallrey Porter, Arnold Oliver, Wallace Oliver, Edgar Oliver, G. R. White, Wm. White, J. H. White, Vernon White, Herman White, Dr. H. C. Hayden, W. C. Hayden, J. B. Wall, H. B. Pollard, F. Wood, Albert Aldridge, Oscar Bonner, Sam Cash, J. B. Alexander, Bob Shoemaker, Kelly Jones.

Commonwealth Attorney Smith read the indictment to the jury and said that while there were other defendants only Dr. Amoss was now being tried.

Mr. Bush, attorney for defense, made statement saying that the defense would show that the statements to be made by Milton Oliver and others were not true, that the court would tell them that confessions would have to be corroborated by other evidence. He said the defense would prove that Dr. Amoss was a reputable and able physician, grossly misrepresented, that it would be shown that he was at the bedside of a dying patient in the early part of the night of Dec. 6, 1907, that he then went home and later in the night was called up and went to consult with another physician about a patient 20 miles from Hopkinsville and while out attention was called to the light in the sky in the direction of Hopkinsville. They expected to show that the charge that Amos was a night rider was a foul aspersion upon his character.

First witness, Walter Knight, is Judge Christian Co., was here on Dec. 6, 1907, attracted by hearing shooting, near 2 o'clock, was in bed, got up, heard mother screaming, went to window and saw light from Latham Warehouse, and men on street passing his house, seemingly 25 or 30 men, moving rapidly, shooting and hollering. Heard the command "Don't shoot to kill unless you have to." Passed my house, in few minutes saw other warehouse on fire, then marched through town, shooting and hollering, making a racket, clamor and din, confusion all over town. Men had white something on, bands. Shot through house opposite mine, one shot into my portico. Several in Methodist Parsonage. After trouble came down town, went to police headquarters, and panel of door was gone, some bullet holes in windows, police office splintered by shot. Saw warehouse it had burned down.

It was about 2 o'clock I saw them. I was city attorney at that time.

Cross examination developed nothing new.

R. M. Fairleigh—Lived in Hopkinsville time of raid. Was prizing tobacco for association. Firing of guns awoke me at 2 a. m. Raised window and disturbance seemed to be in front of fire station. Saw a bunch passing Gray's stable, about 15 or 20. Got up and saw Latham house burning. Went to corner and was stopped. Ordered to "Halt and throw up your hands." They went through me and took my pistol away. I told them I would go home but they said no, I would go with them. They said they had fired the Regie house, but didn't know whether the Snuff house was fired or not. I was taken to the Hill house. Some had on plain masks, some big bands. E. H. Hester was ordered not to bring out engine. I was not put in the "bull pen," but was allowed to stand around. A whistle sounded direction of First National Bank. One asked if that was not the signal. In a few moments it sounded again and they all broke and ran in the direction of the whistle. I met two men who seemed to be on picket duty. I saw system used all the time. I was fired at and got behind a telephone post. After whistle sounded I went towards postoffice and walked back and the company got out. Seemed to be a big crowd near First National Bank. All of them were armed with pistols, automatic and squirrel guns. Some had big masks, some small ones and some had on badges. I looked at the clock 1:50 a. m. I got out in about 20 minutes and saw buildings burning later. Awakened by shooting. Held up at corner 8th and Clay. Saw no one at my house. Said they had fired loose floor and Regie, but didn't know about Imperial and Snuff Co. I think it was about 2:45 when they left. Saw white sashes over left shoulders.

W. T. TANDY
Live in city. Here night of raid. Was awakened about 1:45 by shooting, saw property in flames. Heard shooting and yelling. Live on 16th street. They marched up 9th to Campbell, out Campbell to 17th. A large amount of property was burned and injured, houses and residence es fired into, women and children terrorized. Rev. Geo. H. Means' house was shot into. Mr. H. C. Gant's, Judge Winfree's, the Hopson house. Business houses and banks had windows completely destroyed. The Latham house was totally destroyed.

J. B. WINFREE

Live in city, here night of raid, first heard shooting and looked out the window. Saw what I supposed to be Acme Mills on fire, but decided fire would not have caused all those shots, after watching a while I went to front window, was told to take my damn head in and put out light. I put out light and was fired at. Window was struck in about 1 1/2 feet of my head. There were about 15 armed men in the bunch, was about 1:30, I didn't leave home until about 2:30 or 3. They were then all gone. Went first to Tandy & Fairleigh's house. Got on Main street about day light.

L. W. GUTHRIE.

Live in city, here night of raid. First saw men crossing 9th & Va. was night clerk at P. O. About 9 or 10 men lined up on 9th st. across from express office all armed and wore masks and sashes. Didn't come out of the office. Saw property after it had been shot into. It was about 2 a. m. but I heard some shots before that time.

T. E. Lawsen—Live in Hopkinsville. Was here night of raid. My room is on West Seventh street. First heard cheering, muffled, and afterwards louder. Went to window, head of column of men was marching rapidly in semi-military form with arms visible—all masked. As column wheeled into Main rear was passing Pool's saloon. Heard heavy firing in front of court house. I looked toward the bridge, a horse and buggy came along. Two men in buggy not masked; one thin, but the driver large and heavy. Few minutes after, body of men came down, placing themselves in order, guarding streets, firing, saying, "Boys, it's off; now you will have to roar." Soon after that a shot was fired, shattering the Arc light. Another party stood under it and said, "Boys, the people of Hopkinsville have made their brags, saying we would not come here, but now you see we are here." I saw large flakes of fire. A voice called out: "Let's go this way," a louder voice said "No, keep on down Main." In a short time gun fire opened. Then they seemed to be gathering at I. C. depot. I heard names called, the last was "No. 7." I heard numbers 2, 3 and 4 called. They answered, "We are here." At call of 7, three shots were fired, then heard desultory firing, which gradually grew dimmer.

I put on my clothes and came down to meet a gentleman. We walked down to postoffice. I went on to I. & N. depot and saw Latham house had been burned. Observed another building up Campbell street. Observed next morning that police court room had been shot into, and others; also First National Bank, the Kentuckian's windows were shot out completely. Met Greer and others and then went to my room. I

Atlanta, Ga., March 4.—Fortified with 134 thousand-dollar bills, a New York certified check for $45,000 and a suitcase and Gladstone bag cramped full of bills of smaller denomination and gold coins, a mysterious stranger has just finished giving vana, Cuba, with Miss Louise Whit-timore, a pretty manicurist, with

The young Croesus registered at a local hotel as A. W. Carmichael, of New York, but is said to hail from Buenos Ayres. He asked to be given an entire floor, but finally was persuaded that a suite of four rooms would be sufficient. He then proceeded to a tailoring establishment, where he ordered an outfit of sixteen suits, paying for them in advance, something over $1,000. But this was only the start.

Carmichael visited the hotel barbershop the first day where he met and fell in love with Miss Louise Whittimore, a pretty manicurist, and made an engagement for luncheon.
Not satisfied with her costume, he peeled out five $100 bills and sent her out to get some clothes benefiting the occasion.

When she re-appeared he was dissatisfied with her lack of jewels and took her to a leading jeweler's where he presented her with a large diamond ring and pearl necklace.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF DIGESTION

X-Ray Moving Pictures Are Taken in Paris Which Clearly Show the Entire Process.

J. Carvallo of the Marey institute, Paris, France, has recently succeeded in making cinematograph X-ray pictures showing the process of digestion both in warm and cold blooded animals. The value of these results is obvious, as these moving pictures gave us an actual view of the interior workings of the human body, and for the first time physicians have been able to see an absolutely reliable reproduction of our organs in action.

Many attempts have been made to produce this result, but they have failed because of the difficulty experienced in obtaining the Roentgen pictures with exposures lasting but a small fraction of a second; also because no suitable cinematographic apparatus was available for pro-

The animals under test were fed with an alimentary paste or with their usual food mixed with a basis of bismuth nitrate. The results of these pictures have been checked by special investigations showing that the pictures are true photographs of the actual movements of the organs.
Mr. Carvallo has produced X-ray pictures which are said to show the digestive process in the most differ-ently constituted animals.

PLAN MONUMENT TO HORSES.

A Japanese correspondent writes
in the current issue of Our Dumb Animals that despite the fact that cruelty to animals exists in his country, "due more to ignorance than to malice," there is a growing sentiment toward betterment in that direction. In the course of his letter, Masujiro Honda says: "Memorial services were held for the horses killed and wounded both in the Chinese and the Russian war, and a Buddhist priest is traveling all over Japan to raise funds for erecting a monument to the memory of the war horses lost in our recent national struggle. His idea is to set up in suitable place a statue of a horse with the Buddha of Mercy, Kwannon, on its back."

AFTER THE FLOOD.

For a month, recently, a patient in a Newark hospital subsisted on modified milk and distilled water.
At last the physician removed the curse and assured the patient that he might have anything to eat that he desired.

"What do you crave most?" asked the doctor.

"More than anything else in the world," replied the afflicted man, "I crave a large bowl of oyster crackers."

Sitting up in bed a few minutes later, he ate oyster crackers ad lib, with a look of seraphic satisfaction in his eyes.—Newark News.

WISDOM OF EXPERIENCE.

"Your husband," remarked the intimate friend, "looks like a man who would be easy to get along with."

"Yes," rejoined the bride of six long months, "he's almost as easy to get along with as he is to get along without."

HIS SOLE DREAD.

Woman Says Game of Solitaire Played by Some One Else Soothes and Lulls Them to Sleep.

"Cards!" said the woman quoted by the New York Sun. "Don't mention cards to me. I have played 18 games of solitaire since one o'clock and am just about fagged out." I understand this was your afternoon at the hospital," remarked a card-playing acquaintance. "So it was," said the woman. "That is where I played solitaire. I did it to amuse the patients. In every hospital ward are several sick folks for whom a game of solitaire played at their bedside by somebody else is the best known opiate. It soothes and lulls them to sleep when nothing else will.
They like cards when they are well;
they would like a game of solitaire now if only they had strength enough to think and move the cards. But they are too weak to do anything except just to lie back and watch some-

SOME CURIOUS MISPRINTS

Errors by the Composer That Make the Author Say Things Quite Other Than Intended.

A sentimental novelist, describing his heroine as one who "always kept modestly in the background," was horrified to find it recorded in print that she "always kept modesty in the background."

A religious paper described the throat of a suicide as being "cut from year to year."

A curious error appeared in the City Press. In a notice of a special service held at St. Paul's cathedral, at which the anthem, "I Will Wash My Hands in Innocency," was sung by the choir, the composer made the blunder that the anthem sung was, "I will Wash My Hands in Indecency."

In another paper appeared an advertisement for a plain cook and house maid, where "the gardener cleaned knives, boots and windows."

A SERENADE.

Luther Martin, attorney general of Maryland, was very fond of music, but could not distinguish one tune from another. After his defense of Aaron Burr for treason he was very unpopular in Baltimore. A crowd surrounded his house with a band of music playing "The Rogue's March."
The old gentleman took it as a compliment, walked to the front and thanked them politely for their music. Not expecting such a reception, the mob stared and moved on, and his family, who were very much terrified, gave him a hint to slip away from the door.—Clark, "Eminent Lawyers."

PUNCTUAL AT SCHOOL.

A remarkable record is that of the four children of Mr. J. R. Dannatt, assistant overseer, of Newchurch, Isle of Wight, who have attended the local school for an aggregate of 32 years and one month without missing a single attendance. The record is as follows: Harry Dannott, five years and five months; Charlie,
ten years and five months; Nellie, seven years and ten months, and Ada, eight years and five months.
The school is about two miles from the family's residence, and the distance traveled by the quartet in journeying to and from school exceeds 30,000 miles.

TELEGRAPHY IN OLDEN TIMES.

The invention of the telegraph is now traced back to 1655 and particularly mentioned in a little book, then written and published by the marquis of Worcester, inventor of the steam engine. He there gives it the name of "visual correspondence" and calls it his own invention. The process is getting possession of heights at convenient distances and by fireworks, in different forms, for different letters spelling the order or intelligence, from station to station.

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

"Our grocer isn't logical. When ice goes up he raises the price of meat."

"That's all right. He has to use ice to keep his meat chilled."

"But he also gives the price of kindling wood a substantial boost."

WAS A SOLDIER OF PEACE.

With All Men of His Mind, Wars Would Soon Cease.

Alfred H. Love, the president of the Universal Peace union, told the other day in Philadelphia a peace story.

"At the Christmas season," he said, "men talk sincerely about loving one another, about the universal brotherhood of man, and in the same breath they assert that it is right to burn and maim and kill in war."

"They are not so logical as a young colored recruit who served in the Philippines."

"This young man, at the end of his initial engagement, was hailed before his captain."

"So you ran at the first fire, did you?" said the captain, scornfully.

"Yes, sah; an' I'd a run sooner, sah, if I'd knowed it wuz comin'."

"Have you no regard for your reputation, Calhoun?"

"Mah reputation hain't nuffin' to me, sah, 'longside o' mah life."

"The captain smiled and twirled his mustache. Here was an intelligent young man. He'd talk him over to the right point of view."

"Even if you should lose your life, Calhoun," he said, "you'd have the satisfaction of knowing that you had died for your country."

"Wot satisfaction could dat be to me, sah, when de power o' feelin' it wuz gone?"

"Then patriotism means nothing to you?"

"Nuffin', sah. I wouldn't put mah life in de scales agin any government dat eber existed, for no government could replace de loss o' me."

"Calhoun, if all soldiers were like you, the world's governments would all go to pieces."

"On de contrary, sah, dey'd last foreber; for if all soldiers wuz like me, den dere couldn't neber be no fightin'."

FATAL REALISM.

Playing in the cellar of his home at Philadelphia, a few days ago, Charles Smith, an 11-year-old boy, slipped a noose about his neck, after having first attached an end to the ceiling. He then jumped from the top of a table on which he was standing. When his mother was brought to the cellar a few minutes later attracted by the calls of her younger son, the child was dead. The boy got his younger brother, Raymond, to go to the cellar with him. Charles got a rope from the kitchen, and, hauling a table to the middle of the cellar, reached up and fastened one end to a rafter. Then making a noose he placed it over his head and threw himself from the table. His brother watched his dying struggles in glee, thinking that Charles was only making the scene realistic. Later when his brother's movements were stilled and he would not answer the child became frightened and called his mother.

VALUABLE DISCOVERY.

While cleaning out an outhouse at Netherhampton, Wilton, England, recently, a laborer came across seven old spoons all stuck into the earth. When cleaned these proved to be of silver and gilt in excellent condition, and scarcely tarnished. The spoons are dated 1529, and have been valued at £50 each. This is the second find of antiquarian interest on the earl of Pembroke's estate this year, the scene of the latest discovery being about two miles distant from the previous one, which consisted of two urns containing Roman coins.

BY THE FIRESIDE.

Mrs. Haymow—Si, what does this here paper mean by rollin' stock, somethin' 'bout a railroad, hain't it?

IN THAT MUCH.

"You don't appear to be in very good humor to-day," said the visitor to the sanctum.

"Well," replied the editor, "I guess I am out of humor to-day."

"Good! then you'll be in good humor if you buy this batch of jokes of mine."

DEPRIVED OF HIS SUPPORT.

Kind Old Gent—What do you mean by saying your occupation's gone?

Soulweary Samuel—They have pulled down the house I used to lean against.

Mena, Ark.—"I find Cardui to be a' you represent," writes Mrs. H.B. York, of this city. "I suffered from womanly ailments, for nearly two years, before I tried Cardui. I have been so relieved since taking it, I cannot say enough in its praise. It has done me a world of good, and I recommend Cardui to all women." Cardui is over 50 years old, and the demand is greater today than ever. Cardui is the standard, tonic medicine, for women of every age. Would you like to be well and strong? Then take Cardui. MOTHER THE BEST TEACHER

Victor Emmanuel's Effective Reply to Women Who Appealed for the Religious Teaching Orders.

During the conflict in Italy between the church and state a deputation of ladies waited on King Victor Emmanuel and asked him to revoke the decree which banished some of the teaching orders from their city. They said it would be impossible to have their daughters properly educated.

The king listened and then said courteously: "I feel that you are mistaken in your views, as I know at this moment there are many ladies in your town who are as well qualified to educate your children as the teachers who are leaving."

The ladies looked at each other, and then their spokeswoman begged the king to point out the excellent teachers he had mentioned. "The teachers," said Victor Emmanuel, "are yourselves, for your daughters cannot have any persons better qualified to superintend their education than their own mothers."—Home Notes.

ENDED THE SUPPLY.

There is an amusing anecdote about King Louis of Bavaria in Lady Dorothy Nevill's reminiscences: "Resolving to relieve the needs of one of his poor but brave aids-de-camp, he sent him a small portfolio, bound like a book, in which were deposited 500 crowns. Some time afterward he met the officer and said to him, 'Ah, well, how did you like the new work which I sent you?' 'Excessively, sir,' replied the colonel. 'I read it with such interest that I expect the second volume with impatience.' The king smiled, and when the officer's birthday arrived, he presented him with another portfolio, similar in every respect to the first, but with these words engraved upon it: 'This book is complete in two volumes.'"

BASE LIBEL.

"Oh, Mrs. Uppingham, I was so sorry to read about your trouble with the customs inspectors at New York. The papers said you had to give up nearly $5,000 worth of rare old lace that you had sewed to your corset."

"That was a miserable lie. The papers are always misrepresenting things. I had it fastened to my chemise."

COULDN'T TELL A LIE.

"Are those socks all wool, young man?" queried the old gentleman.

"I—er—don't think so, sir," replied the new clerk. "They are marked 'half hose' on the box."

WRITING PLAY IN CROWD

Clyde Fitch, the Dramatist, Was Able to Write Under Almost Any Circumstances.

It is not often one sees the actual writing of a play. Naturally few authors care for onlookers while they work. Clyde Fitch was a conspicuous exception. He was able to write under almost any circumstances. Indeed, had he not been, he hardly could have produced as abundantly as he did. Habitually he rose early and was at his desk while the morning was yet young. But he made no hard and fast rule as to working hours. An instance of his freedom from that notionalism so typical of creative writers occurred while he was in the midst of "The Girl With the Green Eyes." A party of intimates were spending the week-end with him at his country house. During the lazy Sunday afternoon, while his guests were occupying themselves variously, he took paper and pencil to a corner of the long room in which they were all gathered. Disregarding their games and chatter, he worked out his scene—a scene in the second act of that delightful comedy, which ranks with the best work he has ever done.—Metropolitan Magazine.

WISE MILKMAN

Mr. Haggie—I won't pay for that last quart of milk. My wife thought it was a chalk mixture and gave it to the children for medicine.

Milkman—Then it will cost you 65 cents. I used to be a druggist, and prescription work costs money.

LETTER POSTAGE.

"Strange ideas some people have about postage," said the clerk who opens the mail. "Yes. See this letter here with three one-cent stamps on it and stamped one cent due? That's a case in point. The writer of that letter thought that perhaps it weighed a little over an ounce, a little more than would go for two cents, and so he put on a little more postage—one cent more—which he thought would cover it, when the fact is that it required an additional two-cent stamp."

"Of course you know that letter postage is not fractional, but that it goes in multiples of two. If a letter weighs ever so little over an ounce it requires an additional two-cent stamp; but not everybody seems to know this, and so we sometimes get letters like this one with a little more postage for a little more weight."

LAST SURVIVOR OF '76.

The last survivor of the revolutionary war was John Gray, who died in Noble county, Ohio, aged one hundred and four years, on March 26, 1868. He came to the Buckeye State early in its existence.

For some years before he died he drew an annual pension of $500 from the government, Gen. John A. Bingham having gotten a special act through congress for this. Gray's father was killed at the battle of Stillwater and he took his place in the army, being only sixteen years old then. He served through the remainder of the war. His military record is on file at the office of the state commissioner of soldiers' claims.

Current Comment.

Joseph Weldon Bailey, of Texas, may find his resignation of his commission as a Senator of the United States has entered into effect. A question has developed as to whether Vice President Sherman had the right to withhold the resignation from the Senate after its presentation to him for such purpose, and whether the Governor of the State of Texas had the power and the authority to refuse to accept the resignation and ask for its withdrawal.

There is the further question of whether Mr. Bailey, having resigned the senatorship, could resume it.

The sum of $7,182,507 was held to day by the supreme Court of the United States to be the proportion of the $33,000,000 old Virginia State debt which West Virginia is under obligations to bear. The court left the final determination of the matter including the question of interest, to the State to decide by conference.

FISCAL COURT.

Mostly Routine Matters Claim Attention.

The regular monthly session of Fiscal Court was held Tuesday. Mostly routine business consumed the day. Claims amounting to about $375, incurred during the recent smallpox epidemic, were allowed. Miscellaneous claims against the county amounting to about $450 and poorhouse claims of $90 were also allowed.

Claims against the Commonwealth of Kentucky, amounting to $4150, were ordered certified to the State Auditor for payment.

The sum of $200 was appropriated to W. F. Randle, poorhouse commissioner, for the present quarter and to liquidate outstanding debts.

It was ordered that the J. I. Case T. M. Company be secured to demonstrate by practical road building for a period of twelve days at a cost not to exceed $300.

RUSSIAN HOLOCAUST

Picture Show Burns and 90 Lives Lost.

St. Petersburg, March 8.—Ninety persons, many of whom were children, were burned to death and forty others injured in a fire that destroyed a moving picture theater at Bologoi Sunday. Reports of the disaster were received here to-day.

The flames broke out while the exhibition was in progress and quickly enveloped the building, cutting off every avenue of escape.

Futile attempts at rescue were made by those who happened to be close by the exit when the fire started and by those on the outside, but the fury of the flames drove them back before they could reach the shrieking victims.

All the trains for misfortune run express.

A man seems to build a big fortune just to spoil the morals of those who inherit it.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

AMOS TRIAL UNDER WAY

Saw a negro man and heard him ask a white man "What time is it, Mr. Rich." The negro threw up his eyes and looked me square in the eyes. He then said, "Thank you, sir," to the man addressed as Mr. Rich. Neither Rich nor the negro were masked.

E. N. Miller—Was here night of raid, was on police force, heard the raid, was in the office. 1st attracted by telephone message. Operator called, come down to office. I notified other boys and we started out of office. We saw bunch of men at Court House. Claxton, Broderick and myself were in office. We were ordered to stay in office. I went to Home phone and called Mayor, but got no answer. Called Chief and got none, was cut off from Cumberland. Could not get answer. They shot into the office, lot of shooting. They hit the door and window, we got to side door in hallway. They never did come into office. They had gone away before we got out. Heard no orders given. Saw some of them. Didn't see many, didn't see masks. I reckon they were armed, don't know it. Heard about it a little after 2 o'clock. Men had gotten back from usual round, didn't know they were here until I got telephone message. Night chief was not there.

LINDSAY MITCHELL.—Was aroused by shots and men calling his name, about 35 of them. Called to him to come out, he didn't go. Took his child out of bed and put him on the floor. They shot into house, opened door for father and 3 came in. They would not let him put on shoes. Went out and they struck him over the head and punched him with guns. They were stopped by some one who was in authority, one fellow said "I am going to hit him one." was on 9th street. They struck him as he got to second step. Had promised not to hurt him, was barefooted. Struck him with guns and pistols, cursed him for buying tobacco, said they had come to burn things up, and asked "do you see that fire?" I think there were about 125 of them. Four of them went nearly home with me. I called for the doctor. They left town in 20 or 30 minutes. 37 window panes were shot out of the house and also the hall lamp. Also testified to seeing houses shot into. There were 10 or 12 boarders in the house, besides father and mother, had wife and one child, other ladies were there. Saw three men on Main St. unmasked and unarmed, I was in upper story. It was about 2:30 when they got to my house. I think it was because I was buying tobacco.

J. T. GREER

Was at home and heard shooting went to I. C. depot, saw 2 or 3 on 7th st. shooting up in the air, I watched them, street was full as far as postoffice, all shooting. I went on 9th, up Main and to Garnett building and went up and looked out window. Lights had been shot out, saw top buggy come down Main street, couldn't tell whether occupants were masked. Left Garnett building and came up towards courthouse. Saw some men, all masked, had white badges on shoulder. Testified as to shooting and property destroyed.

W. E. GRAVES

Shooting first attracted my attention. Came down town and saw raiders corner 9th and Va. Five of them captured me, took me to Armory steps. Saw telephone girls with raiders. Took me to first bridge on I. C. They were masked and armed. Let me go back. At I. C. depot they called numbers. Didn't hear any orders. Don't know exact time. Captured corner 10th & Main. Called numbers to 7. Answers were "Old Hell" we are all here; and off they went. They shot at the clock, many of them.

E. H. HESTER.

Chief of Fire department said he got the alarm over the phone and coming down found them in front of station. Threw gun on me searched me, took my pistol and held me prisoner at Hill House. Never got pistol back. They said if I brought out the horses they would kill them. I heard a horn blow and they ran towards the I. C. depot. I was awakened just before 2 o'clock, by operator, when I got there they were in charge.

MISS ANNIE CURTIS.

Miss Annie Curtis was on duty at Cumb. telephone office, heard yelling, went to window, saw men armed and masked. They broke the door and then broke the glass in the second door. Told us not to be alarmed they would not hurt us, not to notify anybody. Took us down stairs. Shot through our upper windows. They talked to us. They said they were going to dynamite the Imperial and burn the Snuff factory. Let us go back, offered to escort us. Saw Latham building burning. They were shooting, they left on signal. Three of them staid with us. Next morning lines were out of commission. 25 minutes to 2 o'clock first we heard. Not treated with any impoliteness. Heard swearing and men were told to be careful how they were talking. They came to office before we saw the fire.

MILTON OLIVER.

Am 50 years old, live in Metropolis, Ill., until recently Lyon Co. Have known Dr. Amoss 4 or 5 years. Am a night rider, joined at Nabb's school house, never learned obligation by heart. Sworn in by Geo. Brown, have been in meetings with Amoss, first time at Cedar Grove school house. Saw him at Nabb's school house. He instructed the boys how to transact business in detail. I understood it was to have everything going their way. They were to see that the men joined the association. I

ROYAL Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is more economical at its price than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a dangerous mineral acid, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label of alum baking powders must show the ingredients.

only remember seeing him in the two meetings. At Cedar Grove he said when you went after a man go after him right, if he got mad and died he couldn't help it. Met him in Wallonia at a meeting for purpose of coming to Hopkinsville. Two lodges met, Nabb's and Cedar Grove. Amoss was there and instructed what each crowd was to do. No. 2 was Cedar Grove and Nabb's, No. 1 was Wallonia. We were instructed to burn. In city I stumbled and got in No. 1. Saw Amoss. We hitched horses about 3 miles out of town. Some came one way and some another. We met different companies along the road. Amoss instructed how to hitch and what to do. No. 1 was to burn factory and No. 2 take police station. We traveled the Railroad from where we were hitched. Our instructions to get out was horn or a blow in gun barrel. No. 1 burned the factory. Crossed another railroad and just beyond depot burned first house. I passed Amoss on road between where he gave instructions and town. He had on a black mask. He was to see the men lined up and that all were in place.

He was to see the men lined up and all in place. I was present when plans were discussed. Amoss said Hopkinsville had invited them. All were armed and masked. When we crossed the railroad a man on the corner was shot. We set factory on fire, broke in either through window or door, poured coal oil on the building and set it on fire. Dr. Amoss instructed us at Wallonia to intimidate.

We staid until under headway and then went to another factory and burnt that. Police were to be kept in their office. After burning we came down where they were whipping a man named Mitchell, staid there until signal to leave was given.

First saw Guy Dunning at Wallonia. He was captain of Squad No. 1. B. Malone was captain of No. 2 and led the squad. I belonged to that squad. Saw him when he hitched, placing his men and instructing them to keep up. Didn't see him after I stumbled and fell.

Saw Robinson setting fire to the first factory. He was instructed at Wallonia by Amoss. Saw Nichols at same place. Saw Irvin Glass; he started from my house when I did. Didn't see him again until next morning on my way home, when he overtook me. Don't know where Amoss was during the burning of the two some of the boys said Amoss had got shot and left for home, that Dr. Haydon carried him back. Dr. Amoss was considered the foremost man or leader. Saw Dunning where they were whipping Mitchell. Don't know who the man was who said not to hit Mitchell any more. Some one said be careful not to get hurt as the Dr. has gone. Never attended any meeting with Amoss since raid.

Cross ex—Was member of Association, joined night r. at Nabb's in Lyon county, I think in 1907. Raid was talked of for 6 months. Amoss talked at Nabb's and Cedar Grove, where he gave whipping instructions. Met at Wallonia about hour after dark, earlier than 8 o'clock. Amoss was there. Meeting lasted one hour. I lived 7 or 8 miles from Wallonia. School house was lighted with lamps. After leaving Wallonia didn't see A. till we got to hitching place. Don't know how many were in gang, probably 300 or 400.

Reinforced at Gracey and other places, squads put in before or behind. Heard A. was shot in back of head or neck. Didn't see him after reaching Hopkinsville.

The witness then stated that he denied being in any raid or being a night rider in Judge Evans' court. I swore falsely when I made affidavit that I was not a night rider. I did this because obligation as a night rider required it. Met Dr. A. at Nabb's before going to Paducah. Most of these defendants were present. Purpose of meeting was to prepare testimony for Paducah meeting.

We agreed to swear falsely and tell any tale that would clear. Witness was still being cross examined at the press hour.

Got Light Sentence.

Dave Anglin, the negro accused of killing George Hopper, whose trial was concluded Monday, was given two years in the penitentiary. The jury remained out only a short while.

Ed Winn, a white boy accused of killing Abe Allen, on October 1, the day of Ringling's show, in this city, was tried and acquitted.

GROW BULBS IN WATER BOWL

Chinese Sacred Lily, Hyacinth or Narcissus May Be Had, and Are Inexpensive.

Have you ever tried growing flowers in a bowl of water? If not, you should try a few this winter. Procure some good bulbs of the Chinese Sacred Lily, Hyacinth or Narcissus and plant them in bowls or deep dishes with sand or pebbles to hold the bulbs in position.

Then pour in clear water until the bulbs are half under water and place in a south window if convenient, or where they will have the benefit of the sunlight. Add water as needed and protect from cold the same as other winter blooming flowers.

All of the above named bulbs and a number of others may be had at any time during the winter and are nearly all of them inexpensive.

Several Hyacinths or Narcissus may be placed in one bowl; from six to ten will give a good result. Only one or two of the Chinese Lily bulbs should be planted in a bowl.

The Chinese Lily is the queen of plants for growing in water. The blossoms are pure white with yellow cup shaped centers measuring one and a half inches in diameter. The last for several weeks and are exceedingly fragrant.

MOISTURE IN FLOWER POTS

Ingenious Arrangement for Supplying Water to Plants Without Trouble of Leakage.

A flower-loving genius has invented a box for supplying moisture to plants in window-boxes, stationary stands or other receptacles by which water may be supplied once a week or even at longer intervals.

The illustration shows that the water is poured into the bottom of the box or pot through a tube in the corner which extends down to the reservoir. This reservoir is from one to two inches deep and on top of it is placed a false bottom which supports the soil. Inserted in the holes to the false bottom are sponges which touch the extreme bottom of the box and extend upward into the soil in which the flowers are planted. The water is drawn upward through these sponges in sufficient quantities to maintain a uniform moisture in the soil and at the same time sufficient air is supplied with the water to insure giving the plants a thrifty and healthy growth.

This is a perfect application of the principle of sub-irrigation and does away with a great deal of trouble in regard to frequent watering and leaking which the old style pots and wooden boxes entailed.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES

Plants with large leaves should be washed.

Learn to prune, spray and cultivate your trees skillfully.

Fruit growing is a great business when followed properly.

The large chrysanthemum blossom is becoming generally popular.

The cow peas add humus to the soil, which enhances its water holding capacity.

Aside from enriching the soil in nitrogen the cow pea improves its general condition, rendering it more porous.

No flower collects insects more rapidly than ivy, for which reason ivy should be kept out of the collection of rare plants.

During the past 15 years the Catalpa Speciosa has come rapidly to the front on account of its immense value along commercial lines.

It will pay any one interested in fruit growing to study the catalogues of different reliable nurseries and post up on different varieties.

If, after taking the flowers into the house, you discover the troublesome meal bugs, aphids, green flies and itty red spiders, begin at once to kill them.

The currant worm can be effectively destroyed by gathering the leaves containing the young larvae, which may usually be found on the under side of the leaves.

AN OLD COLONIAL CAKE

Recipe for Yellow Leaf Said to Have Come From Family of Washington.

An old colonial recipe for yellow leaf cake, said to come originally from the family of George Washington, calls for one cupful of butter, two and a half cupfuls of granulated sugar, six eggs, a cupful of cream of rich milk, one even teaspoonful of soda, two of cream of tartar, four cupfuls of pastry flour and one cupful of seeded raisins. Cream the butter and sugar, then stir in the yolks of the eggs. Add the cream of tartar to the flour and sift them together several times. Add the soda to the milk and stir the mixture into the butter, sugar and yolks. Then beat the whole into the flour and cream of tartar. When smooth add the raisins and finally fold the whites of the eggs, whipped to a very stiff froth, through the batter. Do not stir the cake after the whites are added. Butter a large tube pan and fill it half full. After it has baked and become cold, ice it with a heavy snow white icing that will contrast prettily with the yellow of the cake. Citron sliced in thin strips may be used instead of raisins or in combinations with them.

This confection may be used as a birthday cake and is very attractive for the purpose.

TURPENTINE MOST USEFUL

All Sorts of Ways in Which It Can Be Used About the House.

Turpentine can be used in all sorts of ways. Here are some:

Spirits of turpentine will restore the brilliancy to patent leather. Bags and boots rubbed with a rag moistened with it look almost like new.

A few drops in boxes and cupboard will keep moths away.

If a few drops are added to starch, it will prevent the iron from sticking.

A flannel dipped in hot water sprinkled with turpentine and laid on the part affected will often relieve lumbago and rheumatism.

Turpentine mixed with beeswax makes a good floor polish.

A little added to the steeping water (a tablespoonful to a gallon) makes clothes beautifully white.

HANDY KITCHEN CABINET

A Straining Bag.

A flannel straining bag is a necessity in any kitchen where jellies are prepared. Instead of investing in an expensive strainer, an excellent substitute may be made of ordinary flannel, which should first of all be hemmed neatly and then soaked and wrung out in boiling water. When it is used, it should be laid inside a large bowl and the fruit or liquid jelly poured into it. The four ends of the flannel should then be tied together and a stick passed through the knots. The bag can then be suspended over a bowl by means of a couple of chains and left to drain slowly until all the liquid has passed through. A blanket should be thrown over the top in cold weather, so as to prevent the jelly from setting too soon.

Cream Carrot Soup.

Wash, scrape and cut in slices enough carrots to fill a pint bowl. Boil these in a quart of water, slightly salted, till soft enough to rub through a sieve with the potato masher. Mix together in a thick saucepan two tablespoons of flour and one tablespoon of butter, stirring with a wooden spoon till they begin to bubble. Gradually stir into this a pint of milk and the carrot pulp. Add hot water to make one quart of soup. Put the yolk of one egg and a tablespoon of chopped parsley together in the tureen, turn in the hot soup, stir gently, and serve at once.

Orange Marmalade.

One each orange, lemon and grape fruit. Shave very thin, rejecting seeds and cores. Use all peel and pulp. Measure, add three times the amount of water and let stand in an earthen dish over night. Next morning boil ten minutes, let stand another night, in morning add an equal amount sugar and boil until it jellies. The jelly should be amber colored and strips well defined. This makes twelve glasses.

Cream Sponge.

Dissolve 1 1/2 teaspoons of granulated gelatin into 2 tablespoons of cold water. Beat 1 pint of cream until stiff, fold in 1/4 cup powdered sugar. Add the gelatin and beat a few minutes until well mixed. Flavor with a teaspoon of vanilla. Turn into a mold and let it get very cold.

Baked Apples With Nuts.

Core the apples and fill the cavities with one-fourth cup walnut meats cut in small pieces, with a little sugar, and bake in the oven.

CLEAN THE CLOSETS REGULAR

Apply White Paint With Stiff Brush—For Light Use Reflection From Mirror.

A little time should be taken every cleaning day in inspecting the closets about the house that are slightly or not at all used; generally there is one under the upper stairs or over the cellar steps.

These closets are in most instances so dark that it is almost impossible to tell whether they are dirty or not, but it is not hard to tell if they need a cleaning when you try to remember the last time you gave them a thorough cleaning.

These forgotten closets are breeders of disease, and they are often to be found in the very best managed households, for few housewives and still fewer maids will think of giving these dark enclosures the cleaning they need as regularly as they do the other rooms of the house.

The dust might appear invisible when you are not in search of it, but if you flash a light into the low ceilinged apartment it does not take much imagination to picture how amazed you will be.

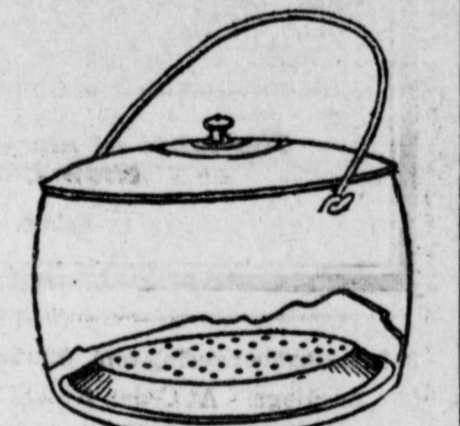

A remedy for this is a can of white paint and a good stout brush. Apply after a thorough cleaning out of dirt and wall paper, if there is any.

For light while cleaning the place the reflection from a mirror will serve; but there will be no blind attempt to find your overshoes the next rainy day if you give that closet two good coats of white lead.

DOES AWAY WITH SCORCHING

Simple Culinary Apparatus That is Guaranteed to Prevent Food From Burning.

The most careful of cooks with the many different viands in the course of preparation under her eyes will slip up occasionally and relax her vigilance for a second when some one of the articles on the stove is touched by the finger of fire. Scorching food is one of the most inexcusable offenses of the cook. A simple piece of apparatus to prevent this mishap has been devised. It consists of a metal affair resembling an inverted plate, generously perforated with small holes. This rests on the bottom of the kettle and effectually prevents the contents from coming into contact with the overheated bottom.

Cornmeal and Meat Loaf.

Get two pounds of soup meat, with the soup bone, and after the soup has been made remove all the meat and chop it fine. Then take about a quart of the soup and reduce it slightly with hot water, then add sufficient cornmeal to make a rather thick mush. Cook the meat thoroughly, and when almost done, add the chopped meat, with a little salt, pepper and two teaspoonfuls of grated onion. Stir the mixture frequently to prevent catching or burning. When done, pour in a pan to harden. Cut in slices and serve like a beef loaf.

Little Aids to Housekeeping.

Linsed oil and vinegar, mixed in equal parts, will do wonders in cleaning furniture.

Silver inkstands stained with ink may be cleaned by applying a little chloride of lime with water.

Pewter articles should be washed in hot water with the fine silver sand and then polished with leather.

If a skirt or any other article has been scorched in ironing lay it where the sun will fall directly on it.

Corn Fritters.

Sift and cut the corn from four large, firm ears; mix a thin batter of one cup milk, one egg, two-thirds cup sifted flour and one teaspoon of yeast powder and a little salt; stir the corn into this batter, and fry a nice brown in drippings or butter; butter is best. Serve very hot.

Corned Beef.

Heat the meat in cold water. When at the boiling point drain, add fresh boiling water and keep the pot at the side of the fire where the water will barely bubble. One hour for each pound is none too much and a longer time will not be a disadvantage.

The Boston Pot Roast.

Two and one-half pounds steak cut in cubes, one carrot cut thin, one onion, one can of peas, one pint of tomatoes, one quarter of a cup of tapoca, two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-quarter teaspoonful of pepper, five cloves, dash of nutmeg; put in bean pot, cover and bake eight hours.

Lettuce and Pepper Salad.

For lettuce and pepper salad shred about half of a seeded sweet red pepper and sprinkle it over the dressed lettuce.

ARTHUR'S PERIL

When the new teacher of room 20 was called away from her pupils for a few minutes the other day one little boy took the opportunity to "show off."

There was much excitement among the self-appointed monitors when the teacher returned. Fifty little hands shot up, waving and darting. Fifty little bodies wriggled in sympathy. All were eagerly demanding permission to tell what had happened during the teacher's absence. Contrary to their expectations, she seemed indifferent to disorder.

Suddenly one little boy in a back seat, remembering that the teacher had forbidden tattling and fearing that no explanation would be allowed, jumped to his feet and, still waving his hand, excitedly exclaimed: "Miss Booth, Arter, he wuz makin' fises when you wuz out o' de room."

"Huh! He does like dis here," said another boy, shaking his fist threateningly.

"That means he'll show you," interpreted a fair-haired little girl in the front seat.

"An den—"

Six excited and scandalized children began to relate in chorus the details of Arthur's misdemeanor.

"That will do," said Miss Booth, calmly arranging some flowers in her belt. "If you children had been doing your work you couldn't have seen Arthur. I shall count the whole room disorderly."

The children sank back abashed and disappointed. They looked at the offending Arthur, who sat stiffly erect at his desk, tightly clutching a reader from which his glance never wavered.

The teacher continued to prepare a writing lesson as if nothing had happened. Yet her eyes twinkled just a little bit, and the ghost of a smile twitched the corners of her mouth. Had they remembered similar occasions they might have recognized in the twinkle and the smile a danger signal for the offender.

In the meantime Arthur's fear gave way to astonishment. He had expected to stay after school, at least.

With a cautious glance to assure himself that Miss Booth was not looking, he jumped up beside his desk, which for the teacher's convenience was at the front of the room. Facing the other children, he rapidly darted his tongue forth and back several times, and finally megaphoned through arched palms a low, clear "Stung!"

The murmur of scandalized propriety which this new defiance aroused stirred him to fresh daring. Before risking a repetition, however, he turned warily about, only to look straight into Miss Booth's keen gray eyes. Slowly and meekly he slid into his desk and hung his head.

"Come here, Arthur," she said, quietly. "Stand here by me and do that again for the whole room."

Arthur came slowly and reluctantly forward and backed against the wall.

"Out here in front, where every one can see you," said the teacher, indicating a space by her desk. "You may make faces now."

Arthur hung his head.

"I'm waiting, Arthur," she said.

He twitched his sharp little nose feebly.

"Oh, no; that won't do. Make the same kind of face you made at Walter."

He twitched his nose more vigorously, and drew down the corners of his mouth.

"Are you sure that's right?" persisted Miss Booth, with a funny little catch in her voice.

This time Arthur squinted his eyes, puckered up his nose, drew down the corners of his mouth and darted out his tongue.

"Now, you may continue that for the next five minutes," said Miss Booth.

Then, turning to the other children, she asked: "How many boys in this room have strong muscles?"

Thirty right arms swung in the air.

"Have you ever noticed," she continued to the class, "what kind faces some people have and what horrid faces others have?"

"Yes, I saw a man the other day, and he had only one eye," interrupted an excited voice from the rear.

"But, I wonder," continued Miss Booth, "why some people have frowning wrinkles between their eyes, even when they are smiling."

"I know," said Walter. "Dat's cuse dey frown so much dere faces stays dat way."

"Yes, that's right. They have been using their bad face muscles so long that they have grown strong enough to pull their faces out of shape. Go on, Arthur; I didn't tell you to stop. Some old people, you know, have such sweet, kind faces. They have been using their good muscles all their lives, so their faces are always pleasant and kind."

"Yes'm, I know. I saw an old lady once—"

"Never mind, now, Willie. Go on, Arthur. You have three minutes yet. Little children can't frown at all," continued Miss Booth. "Don't you remember—"

A loud, convulsive sob from the front of the room suddenly startled every one.

"Why, what's the matter, Arthur?" asked Miss Booth, with suspicious sympathy.

"I d-d-on't w-want to spoil my face!" he blubbered, rubbing a grimy fist in each eye.

STYLE IN SANDWICHES

JUST NOW THE ROLL SEEMS TO BE IN VOGUE.

Triangles and Narrow Oblongs Also Are Much Favored—Nice Discrimination Called for on Part of the Hostess.

The modern sandwich is small and shapely. The favorite form just now is round, though triangles and narrow oblongs are also good. A rather novel form is the roll. The thin slice is spread as for a sandwich, then rolled in on itself until about the thickness of two fingers. Sharp biscuit cutters are used for round shapes after the slices of bread are put together with the filling.

Too great care cannot be taken in shaping, as sandwiches of uneven size are not appetizing and reflect upon the social knowledge of the hostess.

If made several hours before they are used, sandwiches are packed closely together and wrapped in a linen cloth wrung from ice water, then in a dry cloth.

Pass on silver sandwich plates, with lace dolly underneath, or neatly heaped on a flat china or glass plate covered with a dolly. Where many sandwiches are served a small chop plate is often utilized. Where there is a muffin stand the sandwich plate is set on one of the shelves, with a plate of crackers and a basket of small cakes on the other two.

Sandwich fillings are of three orders—meat, in which is included fish and egg sandwiches; cheese mixtures, and sweet sandwiches.

There are also various greens, though lettuce is so much used with all forms that it can scarcely be classed by itself. In this class may be put celery or endive run through a fine meat chopper and mixed with mayonnaise; cress and nasturtium tendrils and pods mixed with French dressing, and parsley chopped fine and mixed with shredded peppers or shredded onion.

For tea purposes decided onion mixtures are better omitted, though finely chopped white onion is relished with capers and anchovy fillings.

For ordinary purposes cold meat or poultry run through a fine chopper and mixed to a paste, with rich cream and seasoning of salt and paprika, are delicious and not so rich as the mayonnaise fillings. Chicken and tongue mixed in equal parts are a pleasing novelty; so is shredded bacon and ground chicken, with strips of pimientos.

Most of the meat and fish salad leftovers can be used as sandwich filling. Hot lobster Newburg makes a delicious sandwich; so does creamed crab with red peppers, and finely chopped shrimp with capers masked in mayonnaise.

Green or red peppers chopped fine and mixed with mayonnaise make a favorite filling, the latter being especially artistic.

Some Carpet Notes.

Do you know that carpet, like ancient Gaul, is divided into three classes? First there is the jacquard—carpet with cut or uncut pile and a mechanical repeat from pattern. In this class are included brussels, wilton and Ingrain. Then there is the enlightening title of non-jacquard. Axminster and chenille carpets are in this group.

Finally, there is the printed class, which includes fabrics on which the design is printed after weaving.

Favor is awarded to carpets in the following order: Brussels comes first, followed by wilton, axminster, Ingrain, tapestry and, last of all, velvet.

Coffee Custard Minus Eggs.

Make a strong cup of coffee, or that left from breakfast, will do; strain through cheesecloth into a pint of milk; put milk into double boiler with one-half cup sugar, three tablespoons corn starch dissolved in cold milk, pinch of salt and small piece of butter; cook 20 minutes. Remove from fire, flavor with vanilla and pour into molds; chill and serve with whipped cream. Delicious—just like coffee ice-cream. Cocoa or chocolate can be used in place of coffee.

Pate a Choux.

One tablespoon butter, one-half cup water, five tablespoons flour, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one egg. Heat butter and water to boiling point, add flour, all at once, and stir vigorously until mixture leaves sides of pan; remove from fire, cool, add egg unbeaten, and stir until well mixed. Let paste stand for one-half hour, then drop small pieces from tip of teaspoon into hot, deep fat, fry until crisp and brown. Drain on brown paper. Serve in clear soups.

Thunder Cake.

Two squares chocolate, one-half cup milk, yolk of one egg. Mix and set on back of stove until it thickens. Meanwhile mix one cup sugar, one tablespoon melted butter, one-half cup milk, pinch of salt, one and three-quarters cups flour, teaspoon vanilla. Combine mixtures and add one teaspoon soda dissolved in one tablespoon hot water.

Chutney Relish.

Four pounds of chopped apples, four pounds brown sugar, one pound seedless raisins, level dessertspoon cayenne pepper, same of ground garlic, two tablespoons green ginger root, one and a half cups vinegar. Cook in even until done. Stir frequently.

GEORGE WOOD

One of Hopkinsville's Oldest Citizens, Died Tuesday Aged 86.

Mr. George W. S. Wood, a grand son of Bartholomew Wood, the first settler of Hopkinsville, who gave the ground upon which the new town was laid out in 1797, died Tuesday morning at the home of his son-in-law, W. D. Ennis, on Seventh street, at the extreme age of 86 years.

"Uncle George," as he was generally known, had been growing more feeble for some time and a year or two ago left his old home a mile west of town and went to live with his daughter, Mrs. Ennis. He was born Feb. 23, 1825, and was a son of Bartholomew T. Wood. He is survived by two daughters and one son Mr. George Wood, Jr., who lives in Kansas. Also by a brother, John Wood, a sister Miss Sue Wood and numerous other relatives.

Mr. Wood was one of the oldest men in the city and remembered much of the early history of Hopkinsville.

There will be universal sorrow at the passing away of the good old man. The funeral services were held yesterday at Mr. Ennis' residence by Rev. H. D. Smith and the interment followed in Riverside Cemetery.

ENDS LIFE

Charles Smith Takes Carbolic Acid.

Knoxville, Tenn., March 6.—A special to the Sentinel from Johnson City, Tenn., says.

Charles Smith, aged 15 years who on February 7 shot Prof. J. C. Gray, his teacher, in the back, committed suicide to-day by drinking carbolic acid.

He was found dead in his father's barn this afternoon about 3:30 o'clock. The boy disappeared last night and search to-day resulted in finding him dead. Prof. Gray had chastised the boy and the shooting was the sequel.

AMUSEMENTS

"Peck's Bad Boy," which is to be presented at Holland's Opera House tonight sails only under its own flag and true colors. It is not claimed for the attraction that it offers most artistically done tragedy, grand opera, or society drama, nor even high class comedy. The only claim is that the show creates laughter of the purely spontaneous sort, is pure, clean and wholesome, and has a lasting benefit for those who see it without troubling them with any hard thinking.

The play is so well known after its many years of success in this and every other country where the English language is spoken that there is little need of repeating its story. The principal character is a healthy, good-hearted American boy who is continually working off his superfluous energy by playing tricks upon those with whom he comes in contact. His father, his mother, and Shultz, the German grocer, are most frequently the butt of his harmless jokes.

In many respects, the "Peck's Bad Boy" of the present season is a new "Peck's Bad Boy." While the same general scheme has been followed this year, as in previous years, there are many new pranks for the boy, and many pleasing musical specialties to add to the enjoyment.

Where there are too many cooks the soup will be salt.—Italian.

Tobacco News.

While the tobacco exhibit at the Kentucky State Fair, in 1910 was a good one, they received a great many complaints from the farmers and dealers of tobacco in different sections of this state and adjoining states that they could not get their new samples ready in time for the Fair, owing to the late curing of the crop.

The Board at recent meeting adopted a schedule of awards on tobacco grown in 1910 on both Dark and Burley tobacco, making two extra classes upon which premiums will be given this year. Those classes are open to dealers as well as farmers, the conditions of entry being the same as heretofore. It is to be hoped that the farmers and dealers will pick their samples now and later send to the Secretary for entry blanks.

The premium list on 1911 tobacco will be adopted and published later. Following is the premium list adopted.

Domestic Science Course At Bethel College.

Bethel Female College has just incorporated into its curriculum a course in domestic science. This course is under the supervision of Miss Elma Thompson, of Appleton, Minn. Miss Thompson received her training at Stout Institute, a well-known Domestic Science and Manual Training School, of Menomonie, Wis., from which she was graduated in June, 1910.

Treating The Wrong Disease

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality they are all only symptoms caused by some weakness or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better by reason of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots without the use of alcohol and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequalled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the distinctly feminine organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

EVERY WOMAN ought to possess Dr. Pierce's great book, the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a magnificent thousand-page illustrated volume. It teaches mothers how to care for their children and themselves. It is the best doctor to have in the house in case of emergency. Over half a million copies were sold at $1.50 each, but one free copy in paper-covers will be sent on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only; or send 31 stamps for a handsome cloth-bound copy. Address the publishers, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

The course includes lessons in all kinds of plain cooking, and also in sewing and millinery. Besides learning how to cook, the pupils gain a knowledge of the value of food stuffs, the digestibility of different kinds of foods and the importance of being hygienic in cooking.

A working laboratory has been fitted up, fully equipped with all the utensils necessary in the culinary art, each pupil having her own individual outfit to care for. These outfits include stoves and ovens. Miss Thompson conducts two classes each week, in cooking, and two in sewing, the class periods being one and a half hours each.

A domestic science course does for a girls' school what a manual training course does for a boys' school. It affords an opportunity for the girl to develop her domestic talents thus qualifying her to assume home responsibilities, at the same time there is a mental development which is fully as valuable as that gained by the study of an academic subject.

So well has this fact been demonstrated that Harvard will accept manual skill in the place of Latin or history for entrance into science courses.

A course of this sort, besides giving very practical instruction along very practical lines, furnishes the student a diversion from the regular routine of school life.

Domestic science is rapidly being introduced in schools and colleges all over the country and is considered an indispensable essential of modern education for girls. Bethel College counts herself fortunate in being able to offer this course to her students and to the young ladies of Hopkinsville.

The courses in sewing and cooking are open to the young women and girls of the city and it is probable that classes can be formed to work at hours that will be convenient to their members. For children who are in the public schools, a class will be formed to work at times that will not interfere with school work provided there are a half dozen or more in the class. The laboratory is open to inspection and those interested are invited to call.

Shot From Ambush.

Wood Ayres, of Allen Springs, Ky., was shot dead from ambush by a mob Monday afternoon. He was recently released on a $15,000 bond after a Scottsville jury had disagreed as to whether or not he was guilty of murdering his mother-in-law for her money.

Keiffer-Calissi.

L. F. Keiffer, a traveling man of Charleston, W. Va., and Miss Amarilla Ethel Calissi, of Paducah, were united in marriage at Hotel Latham Tuesday night. Rev. A. R. Kasey performed the ceremony.

Petty-Davis.

G. M. Petty, of Carl, and Miss Nora Davis, of Haley's Mill were married yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride. Rev. T. T. Powell officiated.
